For electronic communications, including email and cookies, we comply with the Privacy and Electronic Communications Regulations \(PECR\).

5. Sensitive Information

The GDPR defines some types of information as special category data because it is more sensitive. We must have an additional lawful basis to process special category data.

For educational purposes:

The lawful basis we rely on is 'substantial public interest on the basis of union or member state law'.

For academic research:

All our research is done in the public interest, therefore, where our research involves special category data, we will rely on one of the public interest lawful bases to process special category data, in addition to the lawful basis of 'public task' for general processing.

For some courses, we need to know about criminal offences (including spent convictions) because the course includes a placement working directly with children or vulnerable adults. We will comply with Schedule 1 of the Data Protection Act 2018 and the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act (Exceptions) Order 1975.

6. Criminal Conviction Data

For employment and course purposes, we may need to know about criminal offences (including spent convictions). Any such processing will comply with Schedule 1 of the Data Protection Act 2018 and the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act (Exceptions) Order 1975.

7. Your Rights

The GDPR gives you rights over how your personal information is used:

- The right to be informed - we must tell you how we process your personal information.
- The right of access - you can ask to see what personal information we hold about you. This is called a Subject Access Request (SAR), which is outlined below.
- The right of rectification - where information about you is inaccurate, you can ask us to correct it.
- The right to erasure.
- The right to restrict processing – in some circumstances, you can ask us to restrict the processing of your personal data. This right, where it applies, also allows you to ask us to retain your personal information but not to use it.
- The right to data portability – in some circumstances, you can request a copy of the personal data you have provided to us in a machine-readable form, so you can transfer it to another organisation for a similar purpose.
- Right to object – where there is no legal obligation for PPA to process your data, you can object to us processing your personal information.
- Rights in relation to automated decisions and profiling - where computers make decisions about you, including automated profiling, you have a right to challenge the decision or ask for a human to check an automated decision.

8. Data Control and Responsibility

PPA is responsible for how all data collected within PPA is used, and takes account for the correct management of this information.

Any queries or questions should be sent to the Welfare Officer at welfare@ppacademy.co.uk or the Principal.

9. Make a Subject Access Request (SAR)

You can make a SAR to find out what information PPA holds about you. We will respond to your request within one calendar month.

To make a SAR, please either email us at welfare@ppacademy.co.uk.

There is not normally a fee for a SAR, but where requests from a data subject are manifestly unfounded or excessive, in particular because of their repetitive character, the controller may either: (a) charge a reasonable fee taking into account the administrative costs of providing the information or communication or taking the actions requested; or (b) refuse to act on the request.

Before we can disclose any information to you, we will need to see evidence of your identity. We ask for photo ID if possible.

You can ask someone else to make a SAR on your behalf. We will need to see evidence that the person making the request is entitled to act on your behalf and they will also need to provide us with evidence of your identity.

Please note we will not retain copies of your identification documents.
